6. Cookies and Tracking Technologies

On some pages of the Platform, we utilize data collection tools such as "cookies" to analyse the flow of our web pages, gauge the effectiveness of our promotions, and ensure trust and safety. These "cookies" are tiny files that are saved on your hard drive to help us offer our services. We do not store sensitive personal information in cookies; some cookies may use identifiers to enable functionality or analytics, subject to your choices. Some of our features are solely accessible through the use of a "cookie." Additionally, we use cookies to enable you to enter your password less frequently during a session.

Cookies can also aid in providing information that caters to your interests. The majority of cookies are "session cookies," which implies that they are deleted automatically from your hard drive at the conclusion of a session. Furthermore, you might come across "cookies" on specific pages placed by third parties. Know that we have no control over third-parties use of cookies.

For analytical and marketing purposes, we utilize cookies from third-party partners like Google Analytics, or similar tools. Such non-essential cookies operate only after user consent, where required, in accordance with applicable laws and industry requirements. If you wish to opt out of Google Analytics, you may do so by visiting this link: <https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout>. Although you have the ability to manage cookie usage at the browser level, disabling cookies could restrict your use of specific features or functions on our services.
